TERROR CURB

France Forbids Private Flights

PARIS (Reuters)—All flights by private charter planes over France were banned until further notice today in an apparent move to forestall rightist air attacks in retaliation for the imminent signing of an Algerian peace treaty.

Scheduled flights by French and foreign airlines are not affected.

Also to forestall an air attack on the French capital by right-wing extremists, heavy anti-aircraft guns have been installed on the main public buildings, including President de Gaulle's Elysee Palace. And new reinforcements have been added to the 30,000 security forces on the alert in the city.

Terrorist acts by right-wing extremists provoked a massive strike call today by Paris branches of Communist, Roman Catholic and socialist trade unions and the National Student Union.

The call for workers to walk off their jobs 30 minutes early was issued in the wake of the most violent attack yet by the right-wing Secret Army Organization, which opposes Algerian independence.

In the attack Saturday two policemen and a seminary employee were killed and 47 persons were hurt when a truckload of explosives blew up outside a hall where a pro-Communist "movement for peace" meeting was due to begin in 45 minutes. Most of the injured were working men waiting at a nearby bus stop.

Meanwhile, French and Moslem negotiators, working out the final details of agreements to end the 7½-year war against French rule in Algeria, began their sixth day of talks at Evian, near the Swiss border.

Observers expressed the hope that the talks would end Tuesday night or Wednesday, followed by a cease-fire.

Two shooting incidents occurred Sunday near the headquarters of the Algerian peace talk delegations in the Swiss town of Mont-Sure-Rolle.

A Swiss policeman guarding the headquarters was shot dead by a Swiss soldier also on guard. Authorities said it was an accident. A few hours earlier, an army detachment directed machine-gun fire at a small British private plane that flew overhead. The plane apparently was not hit.

In Algiers today five attacks within 15 minutes killed four persons, two of them Europeans. Sunday 15 persons, 11 of them Europeans, were killed in Algeria.

Two Algiers newspapers decided not to appear today as a sign of mourning for Jean Hubert Poggi, 39, a newspaper man killed by a Moslem gunman Sunday.

'Free' Rates Backed By CNR's Boss

TORONTO (CP)—Donald Gordon, CNR president, today gave his support to a recommendation of the MacPherson royal commission that railways be given wider freedom to set rates.

"This principle of rate freedom is in complete accord with the principle by which Canadian National has lived, within the limitations of existing regulations," he said in a speech at a joint meeting of the Canadian and Empire Clubs of Toronto.

He said implementation of the proposed rate freedom would permit the railways to react with speed and flexibility to the forces of competition.

"In such a truly competitive environment I am confident that the railways can and will survive as efficient, healthy and profitable undertakings," Mr. Gordon said.

Reviewing the royal commission's recommendations, Mr. Gordon said they suggested removal of certain national obligations to redress the competitive imbalance working against the railways, freedom of entry into the trucking business, and relief for uneconomic branch lines.

NEEDS LABOR'S HELP

Mr. Gordon said CNR management could not bring about the changes necessary to improve the nation's transportation efficiency without the wholehearted support and co-operation of labor, the public and various regulatory and legislative bodies.

Referring specifically to labor, Mr. Gordon said labor has rebuffed management's efforts to negotiate working agreement realistically.

HE WANTS THE WHOLE WORLD IN HIS BAG . . .

Long Geneva Talks But — No Sign Of Settlement

GENEVA (AP)—American State Secretary Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko spent three hours today discussing Berlin and disarmament problems without reaching any settlement.

British Foreign Secretary Home bowed out of the talks temporarily.

The discussions took place over lunch at the Soviet villa. Both men were accompanied by experts.

Meanwhile in New York External Affairs Minister Green of Canada proposed that the United States and the Soviet Union act as co-chairmen of the disarmament conference scheduled to begin in Geneva Wednesday.

Green spoke to a reporter in a brief stop-over at New York's Idlewild Airport where he changed planes en route from Ottawa to Geneva where he will head the Canadian delegation in the 17-nation talks.

Green said the disarmament talks could learn something from the 14-nation conference on Laos which has been in progress in Geneva for 14 months under the co-chairmanship of Britain and Russia.

If the Soviet Union and the U.S. were to undertake the duties of co-chairmen in the disarmament negotiations, stability and continuity would be strengthened. This would not preclude other countries from acting as chairmen of day-to-day meetings.

TALK 'IMPORTANT'

The Canadian foreign chief said he regards the Geneva talks as "extremely important" and he detects a greater degree of support than there has ever been before.

When a reporter questioned him about difficulties at preliminary three-power nuclear talks already under way, Green disclosed any possibility that the main conversations might not begin at all.

Fleming May See Bennett In Ottawa On Columbia

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming is expected to be the federal spokesman at Premier Bennett of British Columbia raises the Columbia River question in Ottawa next week, informants said today.

This doesn't rule out discussion between the premier and Prime Minister Diefenbaker on the impasse, it was suggested, but Mr. Fleming has replied to a Bennett letter received some time ago and seeking another meeting on the Columbia problem. The letter is understood to say only that Mr. Fleming will be glad to see Mr. Bennett next week.

Mr. Bennett told the B.C. legislature last week that he will raise the Columbia with Mr. Diefenbaker when he comes here next Monday for a national power grid conference to which all premiers have been invited.

B.C. is opposed to the financial help offered by the federal government through loans for part of the $458,000,000 hydro and flood-control project.

B.C. wants to sell its share of American-generated power to pay for the scheme.

SEEK DAM START

In an allied development, a northern affairs department spokesman said today a letter has been received from chairman Hugh Keenleyside of the B.C. Power Commission, asking federal permission to proceed with the three storage dams to be built on the Canadian portion of the Columbia.

Big Bid By ICI Considered Lost

LONDON (Reuters)—The huge Imperial Chemical Industries combine conceded defeat today in its more than $300,000,000 take-over bid for Courtauld's, the world's biggest man-made fibre group.

With acceptances of the ICI offer so far totalling only 37.4 per cent of the Courtauld's ordinary shares, ICI declared its offer would close today and would not be extended.

Sabotage In Kootenays Has Disruptive Sequel

TRAIL (CP)—The terrorist bombing of a 300-foot power pylon on Kootenay Lake 70 miles from here last week has started a chain reaction that will affect industry and employment from this Kootenay centre to the British Columbia coast.

About 1,000 men are already out of work in the Kimberley and Highland areas near here, sites of mining and fertilizer operations of the giant Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, a result of the power cut.

Lack of electrical energy near Creston has caused similar shutdowns in sawmills, a brewery and has disrupted service to more than 5,000 persons.

At the coal-producing town of Fernie in the Crowsnest Pass, miners will feel the pinch with an immediate drop of about 200 tons a day in coke shipments to Kimberley.

Railway operations will slow down with reduction in shipments of ore concentrates to Trail, and of fertilizer and pig iron from Kimberley to domestic and export markets. A Canadian Pacific Railway

West Would Have To Stop Handing Arms To Others

LONDON (Reuters)—The Soviet Union is prepared to promise not to hand over nuclear weapons to other countries, provided the United States, Britain and France assume identical obligations, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko said today.

agreement under which the world's nuclear powers would refrain from handing over nuclear weapons to non-nuclear countries, provided these countries pledged to refrain from making or otherwise acquiring the weapons.

In a second letter to Thant, Gromyko said Russia attached great importance to the calling of a special conference to sign a pact banning the use of nuclear weapons.

The letters were replies to earlier letters from Thant asking for the Soviet opinion on the calling of an international conference to sign a pact banning the use of nuclear weapons and the Soviet position on an agreement to prevent the spread of atomic arms to non-nuclear countries.

The Soviet government considers that there is no reason for putting off such an agreement.

Gromyko also called on all non-nuclear nations to promise not to produce or acquire atomic arms or permit such weapons to be stationed on their territory.

He said Russia was prepared "to render every assistance" to plans for making nuclear-free zones in Africa, Central Europe, the Far East and Pacific, the near and Middle East, the Balkans and Adriatic "and other areas of the world."

All the major powers joined Dec. 4 in the unanimous adoption at the UN General Assembly in New York of a resolution and the 15th in the last few months.

Cuban Pilot Seeks Asylum

GANDER, Nfld. (CP)—Immigration officials said today the pilot of a Cubana Airlines plane bound for Prague from Havana defected Sunday night and asked for political asylum.

Officials would not release the man's name pending clearance through Ottawa. They said he had asked for permission to go to the United States.

He was the fifth Cuban to defect here in less than a week and the 15th in the last few months.

RASMINSKY'S ADDRESS

Dollar Value Decline 'Gives Canada Chance'

OTTAWA (CP)—The decline in the Canadian dollar's value has given the country a special opportunity to tackle the job of economic adjustment, Louis Rasminsky said today in his first annual report as governor of the Bank of Canada.

To seize the chance, Canada must avoid a fresh upsurge of prices and costs and "vigorously exploit the opportunities for new business now available," he said in the report tabled in the Commons by Finance Minister Fleming.

Mr. Rasminsky, who succeeded James Coyne as governor last July 24, said the decline in the exchange value of the Canadian dollar—now worth just over 95 cents in U.S. funds—has im-

Strike Threat Ends

Survivor Of Death Walk Tells Her Tragic Story

GLEICHEN, Alta. (CP)—Three little Indian girls played hockey on a balmy winter afternoon and went to visit one of their mothers. A day later the frozen bodies of Belinda Raw Eater, 12, and Mable Crane Bear, 13, were found on the wind-swept prairie.

Geraldine Black River, 11, told the tragic tale Sunday from her Gleichchen Hospital bed, where she was in satisfactory condition suffering exposure and a frozen heel.

She said she and her two companions, living at a school on the Blackfoot reserve 50 miles southeast of Calgary, skipped afternoon classes last Thursday and set out on a mile walk to visit Gleichchen to visit Geraldine's mother.

The temperature was about 50 above, and they were lightly clad—one in a short jacket and a print dress.

They ran into difficulty, Geraldine said, and made for a nearby home. No one answered their knocking.

The attempt to return to the road but were blown before the blizzard across a field.

They drifted with the storm until they came to a frozen slough. They lay down side by side. Geraldine in the middle and Mable and Belinda snuggled close on either side.

For almost 20 hours they huddled together in the sub-freezing temperatures.

About 4 p.m. Friday, Geraldine suddenly realized her two friends had frozen to death.

The girl struggled to her feet and began looking for help. She was spotted by Indians searching the area.

A short distance away, the drift-covered bodies of Mabel and Belinda lay, their arms and legs frozen solid and between them the imprint of Geraldine's body.

Afro-Asians Plan Attack On S. Africa—Minister

CAPE TOWN (Reuters)—Defence Minister Jacobus Fouché charged today that some Afro-Asian countries are openly advocating and secretly planning military action against South Africa.

Fouché told the Senate that, despite these threats, South Africa would not give way and would continue with all available means to ensure its own future.

Introducing a motion for approval of his policy, he said: "We will have to stand together in an attempt to create a military fist, of which the human and other elements must be efficient enough to withstand modern day onslaught upon us."

Fouché said trained Communists have already penetrated into practically every field in many African states and this penetration was being followed by economic, technical and military help.

Some had received artillery and anti-aircraft guns, others tanks and armored cars, while a few had received jet fighters, long-range bombers and transport aircraft, Fouché said.

African Women Try Douk Trick

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (CP-Reuters)—A dozen Negro women today launched a form of protest familiar to British Columbia—nudity.

The women marched into the headquarters of a campaign started by supporters of Prime Minister Sir Roy Welensky and promptly removed their clothes.

The campaign is aimed at persuading all races in the Central African Federation to regard themselves as Rhodesians in line with Welensky's efforts to keep together the white-dominated federation.

Negro nationalists wanted the federation of the Rhodesias and Nyasaland split up.

Cancer Cures Could Save 'Far More'

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Nearly two of every three persons who have cancer could be saved — if everything science knows were used to save them.

As it is, only one in three is saved, said Dr. John R. Heller, the head of the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Centre in New York City.

He told the American cancer society's science writers seminar during the weekend:

"Please do not think it is contradictory to insist that two of every three cancer patients should be cured today, but to admit that they won't be, because of many human factors."

One factor is medical manpower needed to examine people so cancer can be detected in its beginning stage.

Another is the "monumental job" of getting public co-operation for such a program.

A third obstacle is the problem of getting the patient to the best treatment—or getting the treatment to the patient.

October, 1961, was a record month for Canadian exports at $553,220,000.

Shooting Of UK Airman Investigated In Berlin

BERLIN (Reuters)—A British airman was reported in improved condition today following an operation for stomach wounds suffered Saturday night when East German police pumped 30 bullets into a British military car.

Medical officials in the Potsdam Hospital said the blood pressure and breathing of RAF Cpl. Douglas Day were "back almost to normal." But they said "complications could still occur in this type of wound."

Day, a driver for the British military mission in East Germany, was hit when the Communists shot at the car about half a mile from the West Berlin border near Potsdam.

An officer riding in the car, Lt.-Col. Nicholas Browne, 40, escaped unhurt.

A British spokesman said a Russian liaison officer had expressed his regret to the British mission over the incident and said it would be investigated. The British also are making an investigation.

SAYS NO REASON

The spokesman said the car was fired on "for no reason at all." He denied an East German claim that the car ignored a halt signal and warning shots.

The shooting climaxed a day in which Russian planes released strips of aluminum foil over East Germany in an apparent attempt to disrupt Western radar control over air corridors linking West Berlin with West Germany.

The Russians also stepped up their flights in the vital corridor but today their air traffic was reduced to "a normal of less than 10 flights," allied officials said.

The officials also said there was no further dropping today of aluminum foil strips.

SINGER STRICKEN

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Opera star Dorothy Kirstein is in a hospital with what is believed to be hepatitis, a liver inflammation. She has called off a U.S. singing tour. The blonde lyric soprano, 45, entered the hospital Thursday. The tour was to have started Wednesday. Booked were 10 concert and two opera appearances, including the New York Metropolitan Opera Company's Tosca March 19.

Reprimand For Skeena's Commander

VICTORIA (AP)—A five-member navy court martial sentenced the commander of the destroyer-escort Skeena to a reprimand Saturday for the Jan. 29 shelling of the logging community of Clallam Bay, Wash.

Cmdr. R. H. Leir, 40, was found guilty of a charge of acting to the prejudice and good order and discipline. The veteran of 22 years in the navy was convicted on the grounds he ordered the Skeena's guns to fire even though he knew the shells would fall within two miles of land.

The court entered a stay of proceedings on an alternative charge of negligently performing a military duty.

The court retired 2 1/2 hours before reaching its verdict and required 45 minutes deliberation to fix the sentence.

The maximum sentence is dismissal.

Defence counsel Lloyd MacKenzie sought a fine of $1 to indicate there was guilt but no moral wrongdoing. He said guilt was sufficient punishment.

Sun In Sight For Next Few Days Here

As weather forecasters, we may turn in our thermometers.

Contrary to the bad word printed Saturday, Sunday was an admirable day for the most part, with the sun doing the city a favor by shining and warming things up considerably.

Today's forecast calls for sunny skies and the odd cloud although temperatures are on the alpine side.

Increasing moisture in the northerly area has brought high cloud to much of B.C. but most of the province generally is sunny and expected to remain so tomorrow, except for intermittent rain along the north coast in the wake of an advancing turbulence.

Symphony Opens Spring Concerts

The Okanagan Symphony Orchestra played its first spring violin concert in Oliver Sunday afternoon to an audience of some 300 music lovers.

Under the conductorship of Willem Bertsch the orchestra sight read a Mozart concerto to accompany Oliver's own Gerry Knodel who will graduate in music from University of B.C. this year and who is the brother of Allan Knodel, Kelowna Junior High School Band instructor.

The orchestra played better in its first concert this year than in the past and "this bodes well for our own Kelowna concert which will be held Saturday night, March 31," said Beth Steele.

Kelowna musicians are: Murray Hill, Lyle Bassett, Donna DeLong, G. Almond, Majlon Allen, Jim Pope, Dennis Scorch, Blaine Dunaway, Greta Rojem, Daphne McLean-Angus, Penny Thornton-Trump, Monty Hughes, Olive Ritchie, Allister Ritchie.

OPERATION FREEDOM

Kelowna has been chosen by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce to host the chamber's "Operation Freedom" seminar for the Okanagan - Mainline Boundary area which will take place at the Capri Motor Inn on April 25. Object of the seminar is to acquaint all Chambers of Commerce in the area with the National chamber's "Operation Freedom" which is a positive program. "For Progress with Freedom."

MUSICALLY SPEAKING

With BETH STEELE

THIS COLUMN WISHES to thank the editor for the nice things said in a heading to the column on the Canadian Players.

He speaks of "without prejudice", a phrase which is the core and foundation of the freedom of the press which freedom is our most precious possession in this age of turmoil and changing ideologies.

To write for the press is a privilege beyond price and for those who do so write, that word "prejudice" must be written indelibly across the mind's eye.

One must constantly ask oneself "am I allowing personal prejudice to enter into what I am writing . . . ?" and if that is the fact then one must rewrite and reshape one's thoughts.

As I have said before and will keep on saying . . . What a critic thinks and writes concerning the performance of the moment is one opinion only. Should he give cause for disagreement he is then serving his true purpose because he is making others think for themselves. And it is then only that he is truly serving the standards he is endeavouring to uphold.

THOSE WHO MISSED the Royal Canadian Engineers' Band last Friday due to inadequate pre-publicity were deprived of a musical experience seldom offered in Kelowna. The band played for several hundred students of School District 23 during the noon hour and gave a public performance in the evening.

This band was here last summer at Regatta and gave concerts in the park. It is a different sounding aggregation today. It now plays as a symphonic concert band and brought us music played superbly as only a fine concert band can.

The musical director Lieutenant Leonard Camplin has been in charge just since last September. He was formerly bandmaster of the North Staffordshire regimental band which toured the world several years ago, before coming to Canada in 1959. He is a graduate of the famed English Royal Military School of Music.

He plays the Oboe and the Violin and holds many degrees in conducting from the great English schools of music most important of which, from the standpoint of local interest, is his Licentiate from the Guildhall School of Music where our own Sharon McKinley is presently studying.

This young musician is a poet for he plays that band like a symphony orchestra with all its shimmering color and sonority. The music is approached with a seldom heard sensitivity. Dynamics and phrasing are breathtaking. The choirs are exquisitely balanced and wonder of wonders the woodwinds sound like strings.

The band plays music for every taste . . . marches, overtures, fine arrangements of the standard repertoire and contemporary musical shows and believe it or not, jazz. There is humour also.

The personnel is made up of five Canadians, four Dutchmen and the remainder are from the great English, Irish, Welsh and Scotch Guards' Bands. Every musician is a solo artist in his own right. The Band Sergeant-Major, Joseph Slyth, is an associate of the Royal College of Music in clarinet.

THIS BAND PLANS on visiting Kelowna again this summer at Regatta time. I intend haunting the park for every note they play

Student Tells Of Trip To School Conference

By CAROL HEATLEY

The UBC motto "Tuum est" was translated by local Kelowna students attending the recent 15th annual High School Conference to mean "It is up to you".

Two students from almost every school in B.C. attended the Vancouver conference and those from the Okanagan included Pauline Harding and Ross McGill from Vernon; Fay Stowe and Doug Redecopp from Winfield; Wendy Jackman and Carl Betke from Rutland; Lorna Bedford and Bob Bennett from Dr. Knox; Carol Heatley and Robbie Russell from Kelowna; Eleanor Martin and Ron Embree from Summerland and Susan Venables and Brian Denton from Penticton.

231 STUDENTS

The 231 students were given a tour of the campus after a welcome by the administration, Alumni Association and Alma Mater Society.

Keynote speaker Dr. Malcolm McGregor, head of Classics department referred to the value of a university education. Within the university as a "community of scholars" he said a student is himself responsible for what he learns. Dr. McGregor gave an excellent picture of what a university education should do for a student.

We then toured the grounds talking to various student bodies including the Engineers, the Frosh Council, the Alma Mater Society, Men's and Women's Athletic clubs.

After dinner, UBC students representing more than 80 clubs on the campus met and answered delegates' questions and then entertained them at fraternity and sorority houses. Registrar J. E. A. Parnall spoke at great length and humor on registration procedures and delegates sat in on a sample lecture.

COST OF FIRST YEAR

Dean Gage of the Inter-Faculty Affairs department told would-be students cost of the first year at UBC was between $1,200 and 1,400 and this expense had to be met through students' savings, proceeds from summer work and if the student had a high standing through bursaries and scholarships.

Various faculty heads also held discussion periods with the delegates followed by a conference evaluation.

At the closing banquet, Alma Mater Society president in 1957-58, Mr. Ben Trevino, delivered the formal address on the importance of a university education.

Chinatown Case Remanded

VERNON (Staff) — The case of middle-aged Chinese, Lum Jim, of Vernon, charged with assault against Sam Yee after a fracas in Chinatown Feb. 6 (Chinese New Year) was remanded until March 13 after a lengthy one-day trial.

Lum Jim was alleged to have wielded a knife during a mad chase through Chinatown streets after which a fight ensued. The first day of trial was conducted through interpreter John Wong, of Nakusp, and all five Chinese witnesses being non-Christians, took their oaths under Confucian rites whereby witnesses write their names on a slip of paper which is burned before the officer administering the oath. Lum Jim elected to conduct his own defence.

CHAMBER MEMBERSHIP

Bruce Means, chairman of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce membership committee, will head a drive for new membership in conjunction with Chamber of Commerce Week, April 8 to 14 inclusive. The Kelowna chamber, with an all-time high membership of nearly 400, is seeking additional members from those who do not already belong and from newcomers to the area. Present members are asked to continually seek new chamber members and to introduce them at meetings.

RCMP INVESTIGATE

Dogs Slaughter 2 Young Sheep Maul 6 Others

Two young sheep were slaughtered and six more badly mauled by marauding dogs in the southeastern section of the city, RCMP said today.

Police checked on a complaint by Mrs. Norman Edwards, Morrison Ave., that dogs have attacked the sheep within the past few days, killing two. It is not known whether the rest of the flock attacked will have to be destroyed.

Under the Sheep Protection Act, an owner has the right to shoot any dogs wandering at large providing they are not licensed or belong to neighboring property.

RCMP are investigating the killings.

MYSTERIOUS LIQUID

What may be a case of wilful damage is being investigated by RCMP constables today.

Sunday morning, they received a call from Miss Mickey Wynne, that a mysterious, green-colored liquid had been dumped over her 1958 station wagon causing weird blotches.

A large can containing some of the liquid was left beside the car. Police gave no estimate of the damage but said it might involve a re-painting of the car. Tests will be carried out to determine what the liquid is.

IN POLICE COURT

Helen Tomat of the Westbank Reserve was fined $10 and costs for being intoxicated off the reserve Saturday night. She was given time to pay.

Also fined for being intoxicated off the reserve was Eddie William Kello who pleaded guilty and was ordered to pay $25 and costs after he was found passed out behind a local hotel Saturday night.

FINED $20

Nick Shatzko of Vernon was fined $20 and costs for going through a red light on Harvey Ave. Saturday and $10 and costs for remaining intoxicated in a public place later the same evening.

He pleaded guilty to both counts. On a charge of driving in the wrong portion of his lane on Clement Ave., March 3, Shatzko pleaded not guilty and was remanded to April 9 for a hearing.

Lets Live And Be Happy Spread Gospel Of Health

"Health is a state of complete physical, mental and social well-being, and not merely the absence of disease and infirmity."

These words, from the constitution of the World Health Organization, are as clear and concise a definition of a vast subject as will be found anywhere in print.

They take on new significance during Canada's 18th annual National Health Week, March 11 to 17.

Sponsored by the Health League of Canada, a national citizens' committee of the WHO in co-operation with departments of health and education throughout the nation, National Health Week seeks to co-ordinate effort to call attention to the necessity for promoting and conserving health by all possible means.

"The public have been so occupied with the importance of looking after people when they are sick, they have forgotten that it would be much better to keep people well and vigorous," says Dr. Gordon Bates, general director of the Health League of Canada.

Basically then, Health Week is one time in the year when enough is disseminated about health to effect a lasting interest in the subject for the remainder of the year. It has been said, in similar vein to the famous cliché about weather, that "everyone talks about health but only a few do something about it."

If this be the case, now is the time to act, for Dr. Bates' advice that it "would be much better to keep people well and vigorous" is a point well taken.

Vast strides in mass health treatment came with the discoveries of men like Pasteur, Koch, Lister and other "microbe hunters" and, since World War II, discoveries such as that of Dr. Jonas Salk's vaccine have almost obliterated what used to kill and maim hundreds of thousands.

These men "did something about it" and their followers in hospitals, laboratories and universities all over the world are continually working towards a goal which would see the conquest of cancer, heart disease and other human illnesses.

One of the most recent enlightening subjects to come up is the physical fitness of Canadians generally. Criticism and comment has followed one upon the other like waves upon a shore.

The government itself has earmarked $5,000,000 for physical fitness and participation in international sporting competitions, testimony of a vital need for attention to health in a national sense.

Disease, mental illness, social illness and other health facets costs this nation millions. Any means of ameliorating this problem should and would be welcome.

Research, attention to health, diet, exercise, taking advantage of availability of medical care, attention to mental health and regular physical checkups are among the means at our disposal now.

It is much better to live to a ripe and healthy old age by attention to health and health habits, than to die young by ignoring them.

Much has yet to be done abroad, and we Canadians have much to give our fellow men who suffer needlessly from illnesses which can be cured in days by proper treatment.

Starting in one's own community, one can spread the gospel of health from there to the nation and eventually, throughout the world.

There is no doubt that a healthy life is a happy life.

It is ours for the mere asking.

A Worthy Cause For All

A story of people helping people is like a refreshing breeze in today's troubled world.

Such is the story of the Canadian Red Cross Society whose local branch in Kelowna are in the midst of their annual campaign for funds.

What do the Red Cross do?

Well, in B.C. hospitals were supplied with 58,000 bottles of blood during 1961, free of any charges. Thus volunteer donors and the Red Cross saved patients and their families $2,320,000.

During 1961 in B.C. 200 unfortunate burned-out families received $22,000 worth of immediate relief. The word "immediate" is most true, for nearly all of such relief was made available within hours of the incidents which brought tragedy to these persons. And 1961 was a record year for medical, dental and eye services provided free to needy B.C. children. This province's 134,000 Junior Red Crossers donated $19,051 to the funds for needy children at home and abroad.

The story goes on and on. Water safety services, women's work committee, disaster services, international help, home nursing services and other services have all been provided by the Red Cross. These helping services are available from the local to the national to the international level.

The Red Cross have the trained personnel to accomplish these things—people helping people.

We urge you to give to the local Red Cross—till it helps.

Giant RCAF Air Bases Vigil Aims At Spotting Enemy Subs

By KEITH KINCAID
GREENWOOD, N.S. (CP) — Visitors to the big Greenwood air force base in Nova Scotia's Annapolis Valley are greeted by a sign that says:

"You may sleep well tonight. Your Maritime air forces are awake."

Around the clock giant RCAF Argus aircraft fan over the Atlantic probing the depths for enemy submarines. Canada's commitments call for at least one Argus to be in the air at all times.

The Argus is a flying radar and weapons platform that generates enough electricity for 60 houses, produces enough heat for 28 houses and carries enough fuel to drive a car five times around the world.

"There's no question in my mind that if submarines are used in a future attack on Canada we will be ready," says Group Capt. Ralph Gordon, Greenwood's commanding officer. "The Argus is the best airplane of its kind in the Western World."

READY FOR THREAT

"We are in the best position now to combat a submarine threat of any time since the Second World War," says Air Commodore W. I. Clements, air officer commanding Maritime Air Command.

MAC is the cold war descendant of the Eastern Air Command which flew bomber reconnaissance squadrons off the coast against German subs and surface ships during the Second World War.

But Canada's anti-submarine capabilities have come a long way since 1941 when the bombs failed to explode in Eastern Air Command's first attack on a sub.

MAC has two Argus squadrons here, one at Summerside, P.E.I., a squadron of short-range Neptunes at Comox, B.C., an operational training unit of Neptunes and a proving and evaluation unit that flies both Arguses and Neptunes at Summerside. All told the air force has 33 Arguses acquired since 1958.

In addition, MAC has search and rescue units at Greenwood and Torbay, Nfld., and co-operates with the navy in running the Joint Maritime Warfare School at Halifax.

SKILLED CREWS

The 15 men who make up an Argus crew are highly skilled. They are already trained as pilots, navigators, flight engineers or some other branch when they arrive at Summerside for a four-month course in fundamentals of anti-submarine warfare, ship recognition, marine communications and navigation.

One week is spent at the warfare school where model ships, subs and planes are used to teach techniques and theory of convoy protection and sub-killing.

Graduates are assigned to an operational squadron where their training is a continuing process. In the winter when the navy goes south for exercises, some Argus crews fly out of Bermuda or Florida training with the navy or with U.S. air and sea units. Missions often extend across the Atlantic to Gibraltar or Britain as part of the emphasis on co-operation with NATO allies.

A mission begins with orders, originating with command headquarters in Halifax, and a briefing in the operations room, a restricted area where all vessel movements off the coast are plotted. The room's blackboard walls, which include the ominous headings "enemy submarines" and "enemy ships" are washed bare before visitors are allowed inside.

TAKES PHOTOS

After the briefing a typical flight would be 750 miles to sea, a patrol covering 50,000 square miles and then the return flight. There would be enough fuel left for a diversionary flight of 500 miles, often necessary to check later information or perhaps to shepherd a stricken fishing vessel.

After landing, the crew is debriefed and questioned and later the film from the camera every Argus carries is examined. Photo intelligence is an important part of an Argus flight. Last year picture-taking of the dozens of Russian fishing boats off the coast drew protests from Moscow that the ships were being buzzed.

The entire mission, from the time the crew leaves home until return, takes about 24 hours, an average of 18 in the air. But occasionally an Argus will fly non-stop more than 24 hours.

Some of the submarine hunting is done flying mile after mile just 30 feet above the waves.

Much of the Argus equipment is secret—excerpts from the official Secrets Act are posted over the base—and sophisticated enough that even submerged subs can be detected by sonobuoys or magnetic detection devices. A huge dome below the cockpit contains a sweep radar for searching out surface ships.

LOST BUOY

Sonobuoys, a time-tested navy device, are dropped into the water in a triangular pattern and sound waves give a fix on anything in the area. A Russian fishing vessel, caused a small fire last summer when it chugged into the pattern and made off with a buoy. The air force said, however, the Russians would gain nothing from it.

The 73-ton Argus carries up to four tons of bombs, rockets, torpedoes, mines and depth charges in two 18-foot bays, but it has no defensive armament. The four-engine 128-foot giant was adapted from the civilian Bristol Britannia after the air force started looking for a plane to fill its anti-submarine assignment. Built by Canadianair in Montreal, it was at the time the largest airplane ever built in Canada.

The Greenwood base, in western Nova Scotia a few miles from the Bay of Fundy, is the RCAF's largest operation in the Atlantic province. Most of the buildings are leftovers from Eastern Air Command days but the two runways have been lengthened and a large cantilever maintenance hanger built.

Twenty-six hundred servicemen and 500 civilians live on the base or in two nearby housing areas with their dependents.

Are They Sinners Or Righteous?

By M. MCINTYRE HOOD

MAIDENHEAD, Berkshire — Are church-going people dishonest? Allegations that many of them are have aroused a considerable controversy in this Berkshire community. The allegations have come from news-dealer's agents one of whom has a charge that people on their way to church services on Sunday forenoon are stealing copies of the Sunday newspapers from a rack outside her shop. The charge has brought sharp denials from a Protestant vicar and a Roman Catholic priest who have churches nearby.

Peace
Bid By Nagas

MOKOKCHUNG, India (Reuters)—Leaders of the primitive Naga tribesmen of northeast India plan to meet here soon to try to restore peace to their revolt-ridden mountain state.

For nearly eight years the Nagas have lived with violence. Since 1954, their normal life has been disrupted by a few thousand extremist tribesmen revolting for an independent sovereign Nagaland state, which India refuses to grant.

Many of the 400,000 Nagas, one-time head hunters, sympathize with the independence demand and often secretly support it.

But the majority appear to be tired of living in constant fear of violence, whether through rebel attacks on loyal villages or through Indian Army offensives against marauding rebel bands.

The revolt has forced India to station an estimated 30,000 troops in the remote mountainous area.

The government has agreed to a demand by moderate tribesmen for an autonomous Nagaland state within the Indian republic—but more extremist tribesmen are holding out for full independence.

As a first step toward complete statehood, an interim advisory council consisting of 45 members elected from all 18 major Naga tribes, has been formed. This council has been functioning as a "de facto" state legislature, with advisory powers, since February, 1961. But its efforts to win over the rebel elements thus far have failed.

The interim council now has called a convention of all tribal representatives to discuss how best to win the rebels away from a life of lawlessness and persuade them to come out of their hideouts to work for the development of Nagaland.

No date has yet been fixed for the meeting. Each tribe now is being approached by council members.

Informed observers here fear the rebel sympathizers might use the meeting to demonstrate their strength and frustrate the moderate tribesmen's attempts to bring peace.

STRENGTH UNKNOWN

No one knows the actual strength of the rebels. Unofficial estimates have put it at anything between 2,000 and 5,000.

Indian troops have progressively pushed the main rebel force deeper into the remote forests near the Burmese border but the difficult terrain has foiled all attempts to capture them.

Smaller rebel bands still roam other parts of the hilly area, occasionally sniping at army patrols or ambushing convoys and attacking villages.

The rebels have their own troubles. They are short of arms. Their main source, abandoned arms dumps left in the area by retreating Japanese troops during the war, appears to have been exhausted.

Rivalries among the tribes also have undermined rebel unity and their strength has diminished during the years as a result of surrenders, captures and deaths in clashes with Indian troops.

BIG YARDS

The CNR yard in Montreal is capable of handling as many as 7,000 railway cars daily.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

MARCH 12, 1962 . . .

Elly Barker, VC, one of Canada's great air aces of the First World War, was killed 32 years ago today — in 1930 — when his plane crashed at Ottawa, Manitoba — born Barker shot down 32 enemy planes, was twice wounded and rose to the rank of lieutenant-colonel with the Royal Flying Corps.

1857—A train broke through a bridge over the Desjardins Canal near Hamilton killing 70 persons.

1959 — Eighty persons were killed when a plane carrying Welsh footballers from Dublin crashed near Cardiff.

Mrs. J. Ludgate, manageress of a newsagent's shop in Castle Hill, however, sticks to her story. She says she had kept watch after being robbed week after week on Sunday mornings. "I have seen churchgoers with prayer books under their arms take papers without paying for them," she said.

CUSTOMERS ON TRUST

Customers, she added, are on trust to place in the money box the price of the papers they take. Her receipts, however, have never amounted to the amount that should have been placed there, to the extent of the value of the missing papers. On the one recent Sunday, papers worth $3.00 were taken, but only $1.25 had been placed in the money box.

Rev. Michael Ware, vicar of All Saints' Church, said: "I am certain no Church of England people would be so mean."

Canon Joseph Murtagh, priest in charge of the Roman Catholic Church, is just as emphatic regarding his congregation. "It is appalling," he said, "that anyone should suspect us. I hope the police take action so that we can be vindicated."

POLICE INQUIRIES

Maidenhead police are now making inquiries following complaints from newsagents and newspaper sellers all over the town.

Dennis Mackie, who sells evening papers from a stand in the town centre, said: "I lose a dozen newspapers every day while I am away during lunch and tea breaks."

Fred Shaw, who sells papers outside a Maidenhead cinema, said:

"I have never known the situation to be so bad. I lose about a quire of papers a week, although I have stopped having a tea break so that I do not have to leave the stand."

One shopkeeper, Harold Bennett, no longer leaves newspapers outside his shop. He said: "After losing 25 per cent of them I have decided I would rather throw a way unsold copies than have them stolen."

The Maidenhead Branch of the National Federation of Retail Newsagents is planning a special meeting to thrash out the problem. Its secretary, Alfred Hughes, says:

"If there is no other way of preventing the thefts, our members may decide to discontinue the after-closing service entirely."

The Editor,

Dear Sir:

Might I have space for rebuttal to my friend "Non-Centurion." From his nom de plume it would appear he belongs to the Plebian group; to even write no criticism in HATEZ critics. For HATEZ is blind, and born of ignorance.

Free enterprise was born of criticism. For through criticism we may learn of our shortcomings and thus take steps to remedy them. We only have to look at the plight of China's agriculture; likewise Cuba's sugar industry. In these lanes, run by Plebians; no criticism is brooked. Would my learned friend now brook no criticism in Canada, as he would appear to advocate in his Hymn of Hate.

True I "share in the crumbs" as you say. But do you not agree that a diet of crumbs becomes nauseating? When I spoke of B.C. seeking crumbs like Lazarus, I was thinking of the frame of mind of so many citizens of our province who are apologetic of our country, who feel that the great U.S. is superior somehow, and are glad that we may become the "bed-chamber" for Seattle's Exposition.

Thus playing second fiddle. Let us harken back to our Empire Games. The Sun and Province papers screamed that accommodations in the Lower Mainland would be inadequate. People rushed around to find billets in private homes. Now our U.S. friends were quick to agree that a diet of crumbs becomes nauseating? When I spoke of B.C. seeking crumbs like Lazarus, I was thinking of the frame of mind of so many citizens of our province who are apologetic of our country, who feel that the great U.S. is superior somehow, and are glad that we may become the "bed-chamber" for Seattle's Exposition.

Trinity Baptist Church To Be Built On Attractive New Site

Work is to begin almost immediately on the Trinity Baptist Church which will be built at the corner of Byrnie Ave. and the Old Vernon Road. It is hoped that the educational unit and assembly hall will be completed and ready for services and Sunday school within the next few months.

Plans have been drawn up by architect John Woodworth for an attractive modern building with a seating capacity of 260 in the assembly hall, an added balcony, a study, sixteen Sunday School rooms, a church parlour and a kitchen.

The grounds will be landscaped and the creek bed which runs at the back of the lot will be built up with rockeries and flowers to add to the charm of the lovely old shade trees for outdoor gatherings. A Schellenberg is the contractor, for the buildings and a Chapel is to be added at a later date.

At the ground breaking ceremony which took place recently the Reverend E. Nikkel, pastor, and Dr. R. Schilke, the North American Baptist Representative from Chicago, led the exercise, and Dr. Schilke as guest speaker exhorted the group to be inspired rather than just enthusiastic. "Inspiration has vision and vision has purpose," he concluded.

WOMEN'S EDITOR: FLORA EVANS

Modern World Offers Girls Challenge And Opportunity

OTTAWA (CP) — The women's bureau of the federal labor department has come up with a "best seller."

It's a booklet entitled Vocational and Technical Training for Girls, offering suggestions on training at the high school, post-high school and trade school levels of education.

The publication proved so popular that the entire run of 3,000 copies has been exhausted. Requests for further copies poured in at such a rate that it was necessary to print a form letter turning them down.

Marion Royce, director of the women's bureau, hopes the booklet can be revised and published again later this year.

"It would seem from the response that this is the kind of information people need," she said.

Miss Royce stressed that the 45-page booklet is "a book on training, not employment possibilities."

MORE MARRIED WORKERS
In its foreword, the booklet writes: "The occupational world is changing constantly and at a rapid pace. New types of work that require special knowledge and skills are opening up. Even in familiar occupations like nursing, office work or teaching, requirements have altered and in many cases have become more exacting."

"The world of work holds challenge and opportunity for girls who are ready to get the necessary education and training."

"For a long time it was taken for granted that a girl would give up her job on marriage, but nowadays there are more married than single women working for pay in Canada."

"The girl of today who takes a job is likely to continue in the labor force or, if she leaves it for family responsibilities, the chances are that she will return at a later stage in her life."

Latest statistics show that approximately 48 per cent of the female labor force is married. This does not include widowed or divorced women.

HAS WIDE CHOICE

The booklet outlines more than 60 fields of work and lists the various courses available in all parts of Canada.

"It used to be that a girl had very little choice in deciding upon an occupation," Miss Royce writes. "She might be a teacher, a nurse or work in an office. Even now, many girls choose these familiar occupations."

"However, when they are

ANN LANDERS

Give Hubby An Ultimatum

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 34. My husband is 29. We've been married for three years. Glenn was always moody but now his moods scare me out of my wits. He sulks for days, and then, for no reason he becomes overly of refreshments brought the wants to give the world the shirt off his back.

Last week we were watching a popular TV personality interview a prominent right-wing gentleman. The interview was making his guest look pretty ridiculous. My husband got mad and proceeded to smash the TV set with a hammer.

I've begged him to see a doctor but he says he's not sick. He claims the world is sick and that he is well. I actually fear for my health and safety. I have the feeling I don't get away from him you may be reading about me in the newspapers. Please tell me what to do.—TERRIFIED.

Dear Terrified: Give your husband a choice. Tell him he can go to a doctor and talk about his emotional fluctuations or you will go to a lawyer and talk about separate maintenance.

ELDORADO ARMS

Gracious Lady Of Okanagan Mission Beckons Visitors

For many years the Eldorado Arms Resort Hotel has stood in Okanagan Mission like a gracious lady beckoning to the interesting and illustrious to visit the Valley, and now she has been taken over by the local group of John Hindle and Associates. And it is about to have her face lifted again as she thought it might be interesting to take a look at her past.

In the early twenties the Countess Bubna who had been ranching near Calgary for several years came to the Okanagan Valley and bought the Eldorado Ranch, now the A.T.C. Stock Farm, where she built her home, and in 1926 she bought the lakeshore property on which the hotel now stands from Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Walker for the amazing price of $10,000 per acre.

Colonel H. J. Cullin was the architect of the half timbered and gabled main building of the Eldorado and Mrs. W. D. Walker laid out the lovely grounds.

Since that time the hotel has been under the management of many different people, some of whom were well known Okanagan residents. The first manager was Mrs. J. Curle of Vancouver who was followed by Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bennett, and in 1928 an annex of 12 more rooms was added. In 1929 Major and Mrs. A. B. Loyd took over the management and under their friendly homelike rule the hotel bloomed, and an excellent tennis court was constructed. In 1931 further lakeshore property was added and Mr. Harry Angle became manager for a year, and he was followed by Mr. and Mrs. Borradaile until Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ferguson took over in 1933. In 1946 Mr. A. M. Stadel of Vancouver bought the hotel and Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Barrett, who later became the owners, came to Kelowna to manage it.

In the old days the population of the Okanagan Mission was preponderantly British and the Eldorado Arms was a gay centre of social activity. Our present riding club had its beginnings there, many tennis matches were played on the championship court, and sometimes even the old coyote hunts were organized from there. Mrs. W. D. Walker had the first cottage built on the property which was rented to two well known oldtimers for two years at the now unbelievable price of $25.00 per month.

During the past 15 years under the gracious management of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Barrett a number of very attractive cottages have been added to the hotel and due to Mrs. Barrett's lovely flower arrangements, the excellence of the food and the old world charm of the lobby and dining room, many private and club festivities have been held there and many interesting guests have enjoyed the hotel's hospitality, among them two Lieutenant Governors of British Columbia, the Honorable Hubert Wallace and Mrs. Wallace and the Honorable Frank M. Ross and Mrs. Ross. During her holiday in Kelowna several years ago Princess Margaret's retinue were also guests at the hotel while the Princess occupied the home of Commander and Mrs. J. Bruce Smith.

The new owners who plan to take over the management at Easter time are planning even more improvements for the hotel such as a swimming pool, extending dining facilities and the addition of more pretty cottages, but our "timeless lady" will continue to be operated as a luxury resort and to draw more and more visitors to this lovely valley.

Good Luck Eldorado Arms!

courses of study, it is important that they be introduced to the many new opportunities for women in the working world, not only in such traditional women's fields as health, welfare and education but also in areas of work less usual for women, for example, some of the occupations for technicians in industry.

"Too often a girl's choice is restricted because of not knowing what training facilities and opportunities are within her reach."

Therefore, the booklet devotes two pages to skilled trades such as watchmaking, bookbinding, fur garment making, hotel administration and commercial photography.

Miss Royce urges women to "find work in a field in which one has adequate training and competence."

Aged naturally in the traditional manner ... to assure Old Style flavour!

Old Style WATER

It, too, has distinction!

The clear, sparkling water of British Columbia is a brewing ingredient unequalled in Canada. Our original recipe calls distinctly for this pure mountain water. Blended in our brewing kettle with hops and barley, its goodness comes to life. Then, finally, in our ageing cellars the brew slowly matures into the brilliant golden colour and the supreme flavour that is Old Style. Fortunately, this traditional manner of brewing does not go unnoticed — as evidenced by the many people who prefer Old Style.

STORY GETS BILLBOARD TREATMENT

Mary Hodson looks at a story which was clipped from The Daily Courier last week and taped to the glass windows of all entrances at a large downtown department store over the weekend. The story which tells about a minority group within the Retail Merchants' Association pressing for a six-day shopping week during summer months has brought a rash of protests from smaller store owners who claim the six-day shop week would be uneconomical. The latest publicity given the group met with surprise approval by many persons on their way to work this morning. —(Courier Staff Photo)

In the Saturday morning game it was 4-0 win for the Maple Leafs over the Canadians.

Fast, Exciting Hockey Seen In Playoffs By Bantams

VERNON — Games in the first round of bantam playoffs produced some fast exciting play during the past week with two brackets still to break tie scores during the coming week.

In the games Thursday the league-leading Goldenhaws and the Blackhawks skated to a 2-2 tie, with the second game of this round scheduled for the arena tonight at 6.

The Flintstones and Panthers followed this opening game with a 1-1 tie of their own, and could still not declare a round winner after Saturday morning play when a 2-2 tie was the result. These two teams will meet Wednesday night at 6. The Comets staged a bit of an upset in their opening, however, the latter came back strong on Saturday morning to post a 7-3 win and take the round by two goals, 3-7.

In the Goldenhaws-Blackhawks playoff the Goldenhaws went ahead on two occasions only to have the Blacks come back to tie things up.

For the Goldenhaws it was Alan Watson from Grant Kaulback and Mark Bigler, while for the Blackhawks goals were scored by Bill McDonald and Bill Tarnow from Larry Hackman.

HAT TRICK

In the Flintstones-Panthers 1-1 sawoff on Thursday it was Lorne Walker from Tommy Williamson putting the 'stones ahead only to have Ron Castonguay net the tie goal late in the game from Craig Dobie and Jerry Hove.

Vern Munk's hat-trick was the big factor in the Comets 4-2 win over the Bloopers, with same Desimone picking up another. Assists went to Kim Fulton (2), Billy Hayward and Chuck Johnson. Replaying for the Bloopers were Forrester from Cooney and Allan Southward, unassisted.

Saturday morning the Flintstones-Panthers game saw the Panthers take the lead on two occasions with the 'stones salvaging the tie game in the last 30 seconds of play to force another game.

Twin City Macs Whip Kamloops

KAMLOOPS (CP) — Twin City Macs, a team comprising former Okanagan Senior Hockey League players from Kelowna and Penticton, advanced to the Coy Cup semi-finals Saturday by defeating Kamloops-Merritt Chiefs 10-6 to win a best-of-five series in straight games.

Chiefs were forced to go without four of their regular stars because of a ruling that limits them to only six former senior A players.

Walt Pearson, Red Bosscha, Joe Fischer and Nick Bullock each scored two goals for the Macs.

The Chiefs were led by Fred Gaber and Bob Gannon with two each and Bud Schollen and Shorty Siles with singles.

Macs will play off against the Kootenay winner for the right to advance to the Coy Cup finals against either Nanaimo or Powell River.

After Nelson's opener at the 54 mark of the first, Trail took over and never looked back. It was all that Nelson could do to dump the puck out of their own end.

A wild stick fight developed at 10:50 of the final frame between Trail's Ed Pollock and Nelson's Ernie Gare. Both got five minutes.

Sox Come From Behind To Nip Shaky Cubs

Boston Red Sox came from behind to beat shaky Chicago Cubs 6-3 Sunday after a sixth inning collision between Ron Santo and Ernie Banks that could have turned into a million dollar accident on the second day of baseball's exhibition season.

Santo, Cubs standout third baseman and National League sophomore of the year in 1961 after hitting .284 with 23 homers and 83 RBI, was carried off the field on a stretcher after bumping into Banks while the two were chasing a pop foul at Boston's Scottsdale, Ariz., base.

He was taken to a hospital where an examination showed he suffered a severe but not serious knee blow to the solar plexus.

TERRIERS ALONE IN FIRST

Canadian-Swedish Fixture Big One In World Hockey

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (CP) — Fresh from weekend victories over West Germany and Switzerland, Canada looked to its next game against Sweden Tuesday as the big one in the world hockey tournament now that the United States has fallen from the unbeaten ranks.

Canada gained sole possession of first place in the eight-country championship group with a lustrous 7-2 win over Switzerland Sunday night that made some tournament observers question the chances of Galt Terriers to retain the title.

The Canadians, without the services of Tod Sloan, looked good only in the third period when they scored three goals.

The line of Sloan, Joe Malo and Jack McLeod, which accounted for nine goals in the first two games, was broken up when Sloan suffered a badly-cut right eyebrow Saturday night in the 8-0 victory over West Germany at Denver.

Sloan, the former NHL centre, has been a standout for the Terriers with three goals and four assists.

Floyd Martin and Harry Smith each scored two goals and Malo, Joe Hogan and Bob Brown had one apiece against the Swiss.

HURLEY SPARKLES
The victory over the Germans was featured by the strong goaltending of Harold (Boat) Hurley, who has the only shutout in championship play to date, and Malo's three-goal performance. Sloan, McLeod, Martin, Brown and Bob McKnight got the others.

Canada drew ahead with three victories and no losses while Sweden, the other undefeated club in the championship division, has two wins. The U.S. and Norway are next in line with two victories and one defeat.

Sweden pulled the major upset of the tournament by beating the U.S. 2-1 Saturday night on a 40-foot goal by Roland Stoltz late in the third period.

The Swedes play Finland tonight.

The U.S. bounced back Sunday night, handing the winless Finns their third straight defeat, 6-3.

In the other championship game Sunday Norway breezed to a 12-2 decision over Britain, trimmed the Danes 7-2 Sunday.

In Group B games Saturday Del Saint John, a native of Edmonton who became an Austrian citizen last year, scored five goals and assisted on five others as Austria routed Australia 17-0 and The Netherlands defeated Denmark 9-4. France to a 2-2 tie at Boston Sunday.

The Habitués still lead the Leafs by seven points and need a combination of three wins or Toronto defeats to wrap up the championship.

In the weekend's only other game, Detroit and Boston battled to a 2-2 tie at Boston Sunday.

WINGS CATCH RANGERS
The single point pulled the Red Wings into a tie with the Rangers for the fourth and last playoff spot. Each club has 57 points and Detroit has six more games to play to New York's slumped down Boston Bruins 5-2 five.

The Leafs, getting superb goaltending from substitute Don Simmons, blanked Detroit Red Wings 2-0 on home ice Saturday night, then edged the Black Hawks 3-2 at Chicago Sunday.

The two victories gave the Leafs a commanding 10-point lead over the third-place Hawks and each club only has six more games to play.

Powell River Snaffles Lead In Coy Cup

POWELL RIVER (CP) — Powell River took a two-game lead in the best-of-five Coy Cup semi-final series Saturday night when they edged Nanaimo 4-3 before 1,600 fans.

Powell River won the first game 6-5 in overtime Friday night.

Powell River held a 2-0 first period lead and extended it to 3-0 at the end of the second. But Nanaimo took advantage of sloppy Powell River clearing to tie up the game midway through the third.

George Whyte scored the winning goal with just over a minute left in the game.

Barry Lang scored two for Powell River and Butch Black got the other. Jim Middleton scored twice for the visitors with the third Nanaimo goal coming from Jim Peterson.

Third and fourth games will be played next weekend in Nanaimo with the fifth if needed played here March 19.

Spain's Richest Man Dies Aged 81 In Auto Accident

MADRID (Reuters) — Juan March, 81, a big dealer's son whose estimated $335,000,000 fortune was reputed to be the largest in Spain, died here Saturday of injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

He suffered multiple fractures Feb. 25 when his chauffeur-driven car collided with another automobile.

March was often painted as a ruthless businessman who founded his commercial empire on moneylending and once sold arms to Spain's republicans. He also was said to have helped bankroll head of state Francisco Franco's successful 1936 revolt.

In the late 1940s March became involved in an international controversy over the acquisition of Barcelona Traction, Light and Power Company, a $350,000,000 corporation with headquarters in Canada and large interests in Spain.

March had campaigned to gain control of the company even before the start of the civil war in the 1930s. With the outbreak of war, the company was forced to suspend payment on its sterling bonds and after the war it still was unable to pay interest in sterling because of Franco's currency restrictions.

GAINS CONTROL
March forced the company into bankruptcy and in legal proceedings in 1946 and 1949 had his own men appointed liquidators.

March gained control in an auction. The former owners charged that the bankruptcy had been faked and the Canadian government formally protested to Spain, but March denied any wrongdoing and kept the company.

In 1953 he set up a foundation for Spanish charities and culture. He doubled its endowment for the second time to some $33,600,000 after the car accident last month.

March was born on the island of Majorca in the Mediterranean. His fortune was said to have been built on tobacco trading as well as money-lending. By the time he was in his mid-20s he owned so much property he was known as "the Lord of Majorca." But he did not learn to read or write until he was over 40.

He expanded his interests into Majorca, acquiring a private fleet of ships, a bank, newspapers, a brewery and sugar and more tobacco companies.

By the First World War he was one of Spain's richest men. He built up his fortune with shrewd wartime business deals — with both the Western allies and the Kaiser's Germany.

CHAMBER EXPELLED HIM
In 1933 he was elected to the first Spanish republican Parliament. He defended himself in the chamber of deputies against charges concerning his business career.

He was accused of corruption in running the Moroccan tobacco monopoly and of running arms to Rif tribesmen during their war against Spain. The chamber expelled him and he was jailed in Alcala de Henares, near Madrid.

He escaped after 18 months and with his jailer made his way hundreds of miles to Gibraltar. The victory of right-of-centre forces in pre-revolution elections enabled him eventually to return to Spain.

Despite his advancing years he continued to advise Franco and many credit him with Spain's application to associate with the European Common Market.

March directed his far-flung empire from his Madrid home, a palace built by a Spanish prince, filled with valuable art works.

He is survived by his second wife, whom he married late in life after the death of his first wife, and his two sons, who were his chief aides.

Boy, 17, Admits Killing His Entire Family Of 4

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — A 17-year-old high school boy, under psychiatric treatment for two years, has admitted that he killed his entire family — his parents and two brothers — because he felt they would be better off dead.

The rifle slayings occurred in the small central New Hampshire community of Newport. The boy, considered bright, was in the last year of high school. In the last year of high school, he was in the last year of high school.

The slightly-built youth was to be arraigned in juvenile court today. Mental observation was expected to be ordered.

The shooting victim was Francis L. McGrath, 37; his wife, Wilena, 40; and his sons, Peter, 13, and Charles, 5. New Hampshire law forbids publication of the name of a juvenile involved in crime. Juvenile hearings are secret and the disposition may not be published.

Police quoted the blonde, bespectacled youth as saying in explanation of the shootings Saturday night: "I was thinking about their suffering. They always have troubles."

Police said the youth told them he first thought of killing his parents last Friday. Police said he told this story:

SAYS PARENTS ANGRY
He arrived home from his supermarket job Saturday night and found his parents angry at each other. The parents went out shortly afterward.

A Z Y X W V U T S R Q P O N M L K J I H G F E D C B A

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, Z for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Bid To Halt Gov't Plan On Gaspé Rail Line Today

OTTAWA (CP)—A CCF attempt to sidetrack government plans for a $14,000,000 railway extension in the Gaspé area of Quebec will be resumed today in the Commons.

The CCF group lost in one bid Friday to "hoist" the bill authorizing construction of the line from Matane to Ste. Anne des Monts and immediately began another attempt—cut short by the ending of the day's debate.

Douglas Fisher, CCF member for Port Arthur, led the attack against construction of the 57-mile railway, to be built by the CNR along the south shore of the St. Lawrence River.

Roland English, member for Gaspé and parliamentary secretary to Fisheries Minister MacLean, accused Mr. Fisher of considering himself a "superman" harboring a "certain hatred" towards projects in Quebec. Mr. Fisher sought "personal vengeance" against Quebec.

Carleton Chown (PC—Winnipeg South), chairman of the House committee gave the railway bill clause-by-clause study, cautioning Mr. English to keep his remarks "on a more impersonal basis."

PROPOSES AMENDMENT

Mr. Fisher proposed an amendment to the bill which would have sent it back to committee and delayed passage pending a study of other possible means of providing adequate transportation facilities for Gaspé. It would, in effect, have killed the legislation.

Mr. Fisher argued that the railway is not economically feasible and that another means should be sought to solve the transportation problems of the area.

Mr. Chown ruled his proposal out of order.

As the House was about to give the bill third and final reading, Erhart Regier (CCF—Burnaby-Coquitlam) moved another amendment, but was cut short when time ran out on the debate.

The government House leader, Veterans Minister Churchill, announced that the bill will be the first item before the House Monday, Mr. Regier will be able to propose his amendment then.

CASH DISAPPEARS

BRUSSELS (Reuters)—A cash shipment of 200,000,000 Congolese francs ($3,124,800) intended to pay the salaries of officials in the Congo's Kivu province has disappeared on the way between Leopoldville and Bukavu, the Kivu province capital, the official Belgian news agency Inbel said Friday night. The agency, in a dispatch from Belgium's Ruanda-Urundi protectorate adjacent to Kivu, gave no further details.

WILL SELL DRAWING

LONDON (AP)—One of Britain's greatest art treasures, a religious drawing by Leonardo da Vinci, was offered for auction in June by the Royal Academy of Arts Friday. The drawing shows the Virgin and child with St. John the Baptist and St. Anne. It has been with the academy since before 1779. Experts declined to estimate how much it would bring.

JFK Says US Business Will Keep Up To Hopes

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy and his economic advisers expressed confidence this week that business in 1962 will live up to expectations.

Doubts had been raised by January declines in personal income, manufacturing sales, industrial production, housing starts and employment. Retail sales had been reported down, too, but a revision of statistics showed a one-per-cent gain.

The number of unemployed declined by 120,000 to 4,543,000. This represented a 19-month low

Deaths Of 6 Babies Probed After Salt-Sugar 'Swop'

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—To state agencies and local officials are investigating the deaths of six babies since Friday at a city-owned hospital. Four other infants are in critical condition.

Binghamton General Hospital, in revealing the deaths, said it is possible they were due to the substitution of salt or sugar in feeding formulas.

A practical nurse who made herself a cup of coffee in the formula room discovered salt in pital reported.

Pediatricians said an overdose of salt could upset the balance in the body and cause heart failure in a baby.

The licensed practical nurse who refilled the sugar container for the formula room last Tuesday, Mrs. Lillie Colvin, 29, was also suspended by the hospital and began investigations.

Common Market nations, had produced tariff-reducing agreements.

AFFECT HUNDREDS

The agreements will affect the cost of hundreds of U.S. import and export items, including automobiles.

The initial opinion of businessmen was that the lower tariffs would have little influence on volume.

Steel production last week dipped for the second week in a row but was expected to pick up if the labor negotiations show no sign of substantial progress. Output totalled 2,361,000 tons, down 1.8 per cent from the previous week.

Sales of new domestic cars in February totalled 456,872, up 27 per cent from February 1961. Even so, the inventory of unsold new cars in dealers' hands topped the 1,000,000 mark.

The National Stock Exchange, the country's 14th securities market and the first new one organized since 1929, began operations here on a small scale. Stocks of only eight companies were listed at the start but organizers were hopeful of drawing many more from the over-the-counter market.

MOST SMOKERS DON'T LIKE IT

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Do people who smoke cigarettes really like them? One smoker in eight doesn't, says Dr. Daniel Horn of the American Cancer Society.

Dr. Horn is one of the authors of the society's statistical report which shows an association between cigarette smoking and lung cancer.

Reporting this time on the public attitude toward smoking in the United States, Dr. Horn said 58 per cent of smokers in a survey of 2,000 persons, found smoking a pleasure, but didn't think it was worth the cost. Most of this group also felt smoking was a harmful habit, he said.

Only 14 per cent of regular cigarette smokers said they thought smoking was a pleasure, safe and worth the expense.

"Surely there must be no industry which has so many dissatisfied customers," Dr. Dr. Horn commented.

SALAZAR FOE DIES

LISBON (AP)—Admiral Quintao Melreles, 84, died Sunday night at the naval hospital in Lisbon. Melreles was a leading liberal opponent of the Salazar regime and ran for president in the 1958 elections against former president Craveiro Lopes. Melreles was foreign minister in 1928 before Salazar took over.

MOTHER SLAIN

MANILA (AP)—A hit-and-run driver ran down a two-year-old Daniel Salguero Sunday night. His mother, Mrs. Paulina Salguero, left the child at a hospital with a broken leg and went home to get some clothes for him. On the way another hit-and-run driver killed her.

ESCAPED LION SHOT

BROOKHAVEN, Miss. (AP)—Two highway patrolmen shot and killed an 18-month-old, 220-pound lion Sunday after an unsuccessful attempt to subdue the escaped beast with a tranquilizer gun. The lion, owned by E. B. Tredeaux, was shot after the needle of the tranquilizer gun apparently broke off, and the beast charged.

Sealing Fleet Remnants Set Sails For Northland

HALIFAX (CP)—Three Canadian sealing vessels, remnants of a once-proud fleet, are steaming north to harvest seals off the eastern Labrador coast.

Theron, Algerine and Kyle make up one of Canada's smallest fleets on "the front" in 50 years. The almost-taken effort results from years of discouragement for the Canadian operators, whose ships have been trapped for weeks — or even sunk—in the ice mass north of Newfoundland.

In the past, 100 or so ships sailed each season.

Preliminary reports haven't been favorable. Only the Theron had clear sailing from the start. The Algerine was held for a short time by ice in her home port of St. John's. The Kyle, biggest of the three and reinforced for icebreaking, was trapped for a week at Carbonear, Nfld.

Many foreign ships, particularly Russian and Norwegian, are expected to head for the sealing grounds this year.

Heavy ice conditions work for landmen but against vessels. Hunters are bale to reach the seal herds by plane and helicopter, make their kills and ship the pelts back to land by aircraft.

Pelts are worth between $4 and $5.

Party Abbreviation Hit As 'Careless And Lazy'

TORONTO (CP) — Should the party that grew out of the CCF and the Canadian Labor Congress be abbreviated to NDP?

As long ago as last November national leader T. C. Douglas urged his followers to avoid the three-letter tag. New Democratic Party is a perfectly good name, he said, and initials should not be used to identify it.

Now Val Scott, the party's candidate in York Centre, has written the press asking that the abbreviation not be used.

"A questionable product of carelessness, laziness, expedience or worse," he terms it. Provincial Leader Donald MacDonald doesn't like the abbreviation either.

"New Democratic Party says what it means and means what it says," commented Mr. MacDonald. "It escapes the alphabet soup approach to politics."

What about the widely-used CCF for Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation?

"There's one reason why many people weren't happy with CCF—they didn't know what it stood for."

Added Mr. Scott, by way of concession:

"If an abbreviation is absolutely necessary, let it be New Dems. That at least bears some resemblance to the family name."
